

EUROPEAN UNION
European Structural and Investment Funds
Operational Programme Research,
Development and Education

FACULTY OF ARTS
Charles University

1^{re} rencontre internationale d'histoire et d'archéologie rurale de Prague.
Parcours historiographiques

8-9 novembre 2022

1st International Workshop
Rural History and Archaeology in Prague.
Historiographical perspectives.

the 8th-9th Novembre 2022

The workshop is supported by the European Regional Development Fund-Project “Creativity and Adaptability as Conditions of the Success of Europe in an Interrelated World” (No. CZ.02.1.01/0.0/0.0/16_019/0000734).

TUESDAY, 8TH NOVEMBER

9.30 Registration and welcome

Session 1

9.40–10.10

Emmanuel HUERTAS (Université Toulouse Jean-Jaurès, Framespa)
La thèse oubliée de Thérèse Sclafert (1926). Un travail pionnier en histoire rurale française

10.10–10.40

Christine RENDU (CNRS, Framespa)
Les historiens-géographes de l'école vidalienne dans les Pyrénées (1910-1950) : retour archéologique sur des travaux fondateurs

10.40–11.10

Discussion

Coffee break

11.40–12.10

Samuel LETURCQ (Université de Tours, Citeres)
Openfield et bocage en Hainaut au Moyen Age. La réflexion de Gérard Sivery sur les dynamiques paysagères

12.10–12.40

Roland VIADER (CNRS, Framespa)
Intercommoning in Medieval Western Europe

Lunch break

Session 2

14.30–15.00

Tomáš KLÍR (Charles University, Prague)

The beginning of the deserted medieval settlement research in Central Europe. Economic history, geography and archaeology.

15.00–15.30

László FERENCZI (Charles University, Prague)

Farmsteads (Einzelhofsiedlungen) and settlement desertion – the example of the Great Hungarian Plain in the pre-modern period from the perspectives of historical, archaeological, ethnographical and landscape ecological research

Discussion

15.30–16.00

Coffee break

16.30–17.00

Anna STAGNO (Université de Gênes)

Post-classical archaeology and medieval history: population geography, local history and history of material culture during Seventies in Italy

17.00–19.00

Discussion

WEDNESDAY, 9TH NOVEMBER

Session 3

09.30-10.00

Krzysztof FOKT (Jagiellonian University, Kraków)

A few unconcluded legal-historical problems of Polish rural studies

10.00–10.30

Juan José LARREA (Université du Pays basque)
Le devenir historiographique de l'appropriation de terre par défrichement
(aprisio, presura, bifang, propriusum...). Un aperçu hispano-allemand

10.30–11.00

Discussion

Coffee break

Session 4

11.30–12.00

József LASZLOVSZKY (Central European University)
The Mongol Invasion of Central Europe: Historical and Archaeological Narratives.

12.00–12.30:

Mária VARGHA (Charles University, Prague)
Approaches to Christianisation of rural population in East-Central Europe.
An historiographical overview.

12.30–13.00

Discussion

Lunch break

14.00–19.00

Final discussion

EUROPEAN UNION
European Structural and Investment Funds
Operational Programme Research,
Development and Education

VENUE:

Faculty of Arts, Charles University
Department of Archaeology, Library (C 143)
Celetná 20
Praha 1

CONTACT INFORMATION:

Tomáš Klír
Department of Archaeology
Faculty of Arts, Charles University
tomas.klir@ff.cuni.cz
+420 731 497 008

Emmanuel Huertas
Département d'Histoire
Université de Toulouse Jean-Jaurès
emmanuel.huertas@univ-tlse2.fr
+ 33 (0)5 61 50 44 26